

05

Save your trees from windy weather

Save your trees from being blown over and damaged in windy weather by constructing a simple line to keep them upright and undamaged.

This simple solution could save you time and money, no more going around picking up all your trees and no more damaged stock.

If your trees do continuously blow over, ensure you lay them down carefully, so they don't become a hazard by obstructing pathways.